13th ISCR - 2018 - BERLIN

“Concrete connects” is the motto of the 13th International Symposium on Concrete Roads.

13th ISCR-2018 is the major event worldwide dealing with design, construction, maintenance and management aspects of concrete pavements, including sustainability and all types of applications such as highways, rural roads, urban infrastructure, roundabouts, airports, heavy-duty pavements etc. Also a dedicated session on soil stabilisation will be included and technical excursions will be organised.

The German Conference on Concrete Pavements “Betonstrassentagung”, organised every two years, will take place within the framework of the 13th International Symposium on Concrete Roads, 19-22 June 2018 in Berlin.

Venue: Hotel Titanic Chaussee, Chausseestraße 30,
10115 Berlin, Germany

We are looking forward to welcoming you!

Together with its partners, InformationsZentrum Beton represents the concrete paving industry of Germany. Our members include contractors, material suppliers, equipment manufacturers as well as other firms providing essential services to the concrete paving industry.

The aim is the constant improvement and extension of the use of concrete in construction of pavements as well as the assistance to the cement and concrete paving industries and to the concrete road contractors. By technical, educational and promotional activities, we ensure a continuing successful use of the material itself and attend to the needs of pavement construction throughout Germany.
